JICC

Can't make it to our cultural center during our normal 9 to 5 business hours? Visit the JICC during extended gallery hours on Thursday, October 17 from 5PM to 8PM to see our latest exhibition Kyō Hyōgu: Behind the Hanging Scroll!

Kyō Hyōgu is the traditional Japanese art of mounting calligraphy and paintings from Kyoto. Hyōgu-shi, master art mounters, transform Japanese calligraphy and artwork into fusuma (painted sliding doors), byōbu (folding screens), kakejiku (hanging scrolls), and more. They not only mount, but also restore old artworks. Can you spot which pieces have been restored? Our gallery features over 40 hanging scrolls, ranging from 12th-century calligraphy to contemporary Japanese paintings in kakejiku form!

Tonight's extended gallery hours event is supported by Teaism, who have generously provided over 100 matcha cookies made especially for the occasion. In tea ceremonies, kakejiku are often displayed while matcha and sweets are served to guests, and these cookies symbolize that tradition. Each guest will receive a special cookie as they leave the gallery as a token of gratitude (while supplies last).
