Can't make it to our culture center during our normal hours? Come and celebrate JICC, Embassy of Japan's latest exhibition Photographic Images and Matter: Japanese Prints of the 1970s!

Swing by our gallery on Friday, June 21st from 6PM to 8:30PM in your best '70s-inspired outfit to enjoy our latest collection of art on display, an eclectic '70s set by DJ Em-Pulse, and light refreshments while supplies last.

Our current exhibition features works from 14 influential artists of the 1970s. Witness the birth of a new print movement where materials like print blocks, paper, and ink take center stage, shaping contemporary art trends. To learn more about this exhibition, click here.

ABOUT THE DJ

By day, Emi Yasukawa is a cross-border communications consultant. By night, she is DJ Em-Pulse, a Washington, D.C.-based DJ. Through her music, DJ Em-Pulse explores blending sounds from funk, disco, R&B, J-pop, and other varieties of pop music. She also infuses elements of her birthplace, Japan, and her upbringing in Tokyo. DJ Em-Pulse curates tracks that seamlessly incorporate urban noises and traditional sounds - like the shamisen - intertwined with '90s disco tunes, delivering a groove that compels you to move.
